Certification

The Deadwood-Lead Economic Development Corporation (DLEDC) is an equal opportunity lender. Under the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, it is illegal to discriminate in any credit transaction on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, marital status or age.

The applicant realizes that the DLEDC and any of its boards or committees may not process any application that is not complete. Incomplete applications will be returned to the applicant for completion.

The applicant further understands that there is no right to financing under the DLEDC program. Approval of the application by the Loan Committee does not constitute a guarantee that the project will receive financing under the Program. Financing is contingent on the availability of the DLEDC loan funds, compliance with all program requirements, and execution of all Agreements and the closing of the project loan.

“I declare and affirm under the penalties of perjury that the claim (petition, application, information) has been examined by me, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, is in all things true and correct.” There is no intent to deceive or defraud the DLEDC or any potential participant in any loans to finance this project.

DUNS NUMBER REQUIREMENT

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

The federal government has recently adopted a new policy that requires institutional applicants to provide a DUNS number as part of their applications as of October 1, 2003.

What is a DUNS number?

DUNS stands for "data universal numbering system." DUNS numbers are issued by Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) and consist of nine digits.

Why does my institution have to provide it?

OMB has adopted the use of DUNS numbers as a way to keep track of how federal grant money is dispersed. To learn more about the policy, you can read the Federal Registrar notice (4-page PDF).

Do all grant applications have to have a DUNS number?

No. Only institutional applicants are required to provide their DUNS number. Individuals are exempt.

I am a project director. How do I find out my institution's DUNS number?

You should ask your institution's grant administrator or chief financial officer to provide your institution's DUNS number. Research universities and most colleges, independent libraries, and large organizations already have DUNS numbers.

What happens if my institution does not have a DUNS number?

The chief financial officer or authorizing official of your institution will need to register for a DUNS number. The project director should NOT apply for a number.

There are two ways to obtain a DUNS number. Your institution can use the special toll-free number for federal grant applicants: 1-866-705-5711. The process will take about ten minutes and your institution will receive a DUNS number within a couple business days. When you call, tell them that you are applying to a federal grant program and need to register for a DUNS number. You will be asked to provide the following information:

1. name of institution
2. address
3. telephone number
4. name of the head of the institution (CEO, president, director, etc.)

5. type of institution (university, college, library, museum, historical society, etc.)
6. total number of employees (full- and part-time)

Your institution can also register for a DUNS number via Dun & Bradstreet's website at <https://eupdate.dnb.com/requestoptions.html>. Choose the "DUNS number only" option. Please note that registration via the website may take up to thirty business days to complete.

Is there a fee for registering for a DUNS number?

No. D&B should not charge you a fee. You are also not obligated to purchase any of their products.
